

CLUB ACTIVITIES:

In our college, we offer a diverse range of club activities catering to various interests and passions of students. Club activities are integral to the educational experience, offering students a platform for personal growth, skill development, social interaction, and civic engagement outside the traditional classroom setting. By participating in clubs, students enrich their educational journey, broaden their horizons, and prepare themselves for success in the academic, professional, and personal spheres of life. These include:

Journal Club:

Journal clubs play a pivotal role in educational institutions, offering numerous benefits to students, faculty, and the academic community as a whole. Journal clubs cultivate critical thinking skills among participants. By dissecting research articles, students learn to evaluate methodologies, interpret results, and identify the strengths and limitations of studies. Participation in journal club's hones communication skills as students present and discuss research findings in a collaborative setting. They learn to articulate complex concepts, engage in scholarly discourse, and defend their viewpoints, fostering effective communication skills vital for academic and professional success. They instill habits of critical reading, information synthesis, and intellectual curiosity, preparing students for careers in academia, research, healthcare, and other fields. This strengthens the link between research and practice, enhancing the quality of care and services delivered.

Cultural Club:

The cultural club involves every student in the college, irrespective of the department they belong to. Cultural clubs help students keep in touch with the rich cultural values, customs, and traditions of our country. Extracurricular activities increase opportunities for social interaction and new relationship development.

Debate Club: The primary goal of a debate is for students to generate effective critical thinking into primary issues in the given topic. The club uses the formal debate format. Debate club Students learn to create factual/logical, ethical, and emotional arguments to persuade others in the club that their "side" is correct. The club uses the formal debate format. here are two teams: an Affirmative – the team that agrees with the topic; and • a Negative – the team that disagrees with the topic.

Logic And Puzzle Club:

Puzzle Club is a weekly club where students attempt to solve all types of puzzles, riddles, logic problems, and brain teasers. "Our mission is to inspire students to think in flexible new ways, and we do it in a fun, engaging, and welcoming environment for everyone junior and student leader of Puzzle Club.

Current Affairs Club:

To enable the students to knowledge of current affairs, regional, national, and international. It keeps you informed about the latest events, news, and developments happening around the world. It expands your knowledge on various subjects, including politics, economics, science, technology, and social issues. It encourages critical thinking and analysis by presenting different perspectives on complex issues. It enhances your communication skills, helps you develop informed opinions, and broadens your worldview. Engaging with current affairs in our modern era allows a student to become well-informed and ready for all competitive exams.

Ecology Club:

The Ecology Club plays a significant role in educational institutes by focusing on environmental awareness, conservation efforts, and sustainable practices. The Ecology Club raises awareness about environmental issues such as climate change, pollution, habitat destruction, and species extinction. Ecology Clubs often initiate and participate in conservation projects aimed at protecting local ecosystems, wildlife habitats, and biodiversity.

Student Presentation Club:

A Student Presentation Club serves as a valuable platform within educational institutes for students to hone their public speaking, communication, and presentation skills. The Student Presentation Club plays a crucial role in equipping students with the presentation skills, confidence, and competencies needed for academic success, professional advancement, and personal growth. By providing a supportive environment for students to practice and refine their presentation skills, the club prepares students to communicate effectively, engage audiences, and make meaningful contributions in various academic, professional, and personal contexts.

